

MARSHALL WAS JUDGE MEANT

Admits He Wrote To The Insurance Company Asking For A Rebate On Premiums.

SEES NO GREAT WRONG IN ACTION

Lawyers Say That No Statute Was Violated By The Act--Whole State Is Aroused By The Disclosure.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 21.—The publication today of the letters in the case where Justice R. D. Marshall of the Wisconsin supreme court asked for an agent's commission in the payment of the renewal premium of $671.40 on his policy in the Union Central Life Insurance company discloses the fact that the officials of the company took the position at the time that the request was made that it was a direct request for a rebate.

J. G. Albright, the local manager in a letter to the company's headquarters at Cincinnati asked: "When a judge of the supreme court of this state makes an appeal for a rebate and does it direct to the home office, is it not time that there be some elevation in the moral conscience of the people in high places before we can hope for much change for the better among the rank and file on the rebate question?"

Justice Marshall, at his summer home at Kilbourn, admitted writing the letters, but said that it was perfectly right and proper that he should ask for the agent's commission since there was no agent of the company at Madison. He denied that the letters could be construed into a request for a rebate and denied anyone to read such a request into them. His attitude regarding the affair was distinctly belligerent.

The letters were produced Thursday before the insurance investigating committee. Albright had made up his mind yesterday not to give out the name until today or Sunday in order to give Justice Marshall an opportunity to explain the situation before the name was made public from another source. He refused to go into the details of the transactions, any further than to say Justice Marshall wrote the letters shown to the insurance investigating committee.

Text of Marshall's Letter.
The original correspondence was produced by Mr. Albright late yesterday. The letter soliciting the commission for collection is as follows: "State of Wisconsin, Supreme Court, Madison, Wis., Oct. 1, 1902.—Union Central Life Insurance Company, Cincinnati, O., Gentlemen: I hold policy No. 232,908 in your company, on which there falls, due the 18th day of this month, the annual premium of $671.40. I am not at present advised as to whether I will be obliged to remit to the principal office. Not knowing that you have any agent in this city, and supposing that if you have, such agent has no claims upon you for a percentage for the collection of my premium, I suggest that you send my receipt to the First National bank of Madison, Wis., with a draft attached for the $671.40 and instructions to deliver the receipt upon payment of the draft on or before the due date of the premium and that in such case you permit the bank to take the usual agent's commission for the collection, with permission to pay the same to me."

"My policy came from an agent entirely out of my circle of business acquaintances. I see no reason myself why I can not be permitted to make the payment in the manner suggested, but if there are reasons of course you will write me suggesting where to send the money."

Very truly yours,
R. D. MARSHALL.
Agents' Letter Is Bitter.
The above letter from Justice Marshall was referred by the home office of the insurance company to State Manager Albright of Wisconsin, who in turn wrote to his supervisor office as follows:
"You grant him a rebate upon his re-

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 6, 1902.—E. P. Marshall, Secretary Union Central Life Insurance Company, Cincinnati, O.—Dear Sir: I am today in receipt of yours of the 3d inclosing a letter from a judge of the supreme court of Wisconsin, R. D. Marshall, asking that you grant him a rebate upon his renewal premium. When a judge of the supreme court of this state makes an appeal for a rebate and does it direct to the home office is it not time that there be some elevation in the moral conscience of the people in high places before we can hope for much change for the better among the rank and file on the rebate question?"

"This gives you an idea of some of the difficulties we are obliged to contend with in this state. Respectfully yours, J. G. ALBRIGHT, State Mgr. Ind. Ins."

Mr. Albright also wrote to the justice informing him that rebating was forbidden by law in Wisconsin. The final answer of Justice Marshall was written to Mr. Albright as follows:

"Madison, Wis., Oct. 14, 1902.—J. G. Albright, Dear Sir: Here is the draft for payment on my policy. I am not acquainted with the law to which you refer. On reflection you will probably see that there is nothing in the law to prevent your company from paying to my bank any collection charges you see fit. I do not take your letter very seriously. It would not be out of place for your company to establish an agency outside of Milwaukee. Yours, R. D. MARSHALL."

"I wrote the letters which were read before the life insurance investigating commission Thursday," said Justice R. D. Marshall over the long distance telephone from his farm in Kilbourn late yesterday afternoon.

"I wrote, as the letters will show, that the company had no local agent in Madison," Justice Marshall said, "and I sent the money in full. That is all there is to it. If any one wants to make a mountain out of a molehill they will have to do so, as far as I am concerned. The correspondence as published is correct in every particular and I defy any one to read into my letter any demand or request for any rebate or allowance other than the usual collection fee allowed agents who handle premium renewals."

"I submitted the question to the company whether or not it would be proper to allow me such fee in the absence of any authorized agent of the company in the vicinity."

"It is as plain as the noonday sun and no other meaning can be placed upon any sentence in either of my letters. I wrote for information and as soon as I got it I acted upon it and remitted my premium in full."

"I added that in my opinion the company would do well to appoint agents at other places than Milwaukee with the idea that it would tend to convenience in collections. That is all there is to the matter."

The disclosures were the subject of conversation very generally yesterday and rumors of all sorts filled the air. Impeachment proceedings were hinted at in some quarters, but the members of the insurance investigating committee scoffed at any such proposition.

GOVERNMENT REPORT OF WISCONSIN LEAF

Damage From Cut Worms Has Been More Than Usual But Crop Is Otherwise Very Good.

Washington, D. C., July 18.—The Department of Agriculture's report on the tobacco crop of 1906 issued today says of the crop in Wisconsin: "There is an increase of 13 per cent in this state, and almost the entire crop had been transplanted on June 25, with weather conditions favorable for this work to be finished in a few days. Damage from cutworms is reported greater than usual, but, with plenty of rain, the ground is in good condition for the missing plants to be replaced, and the indications are that the stand will be good. Some new sheds will be built."

NEWS OF THE STATE IN BRIEF

The Fond du Lac district convention of the Epworth league opened in Sheboygan last night. About one hundred delegates are attending the convention.

The fourth annual Racine chautauqua opened on Friday under favorable circumstances. There are one hundred pitched on the ground and the attendance promises to be larger than ever before.

F. R. Potts of Sandy Creek, Oswego county, N. Y., shot himself through the kidneys and the bullet went clear through the body. He also swallowed an ounce of laudanum. He left a pathetic letter to his mother. Despondency and no work caused the attempt.

District Attorney E. E. Gittins appeared before the Racine board of review on Friday with a delegation of citizens in regard to the manner in which personal taxes are assessed. The attorney advised the board that complaint had been made by him that assessors did not present blanks for manufacturers and others to sign, as the law demands. Members of the board admitted this to be a fact. They said that in years gone by blanks had been presented to the large manufacturers, but that the manufacturers refused to fill them out, and that the value of taxes were filled in by guess.

John Hein, only son of Conrad Hein, was drowned in Rock river near Pipersville. He rode into the river with a horse, getting into deep water. Carl Petersen of Oshkosh was drowned while bathing in the presence of about fifty other bathers, but on account of the darkness they were unable to rescue him.

AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY INSURANCE

Big Corporation Makes Provision For Payment of Benefit a Death of Employee.

Washington, D. C., July 18.—The American Tobacco company, which has factories in nearly thirty large tobacco and railroad centers throughout the country and salesmen and other employees in thousands of other cities, has promulgated an order insuring its employees against death. The new order will affect approximately 150,000 people in the United States employees of the company. The plan is as follows: Upon the proof of the death of any person who has been employed by the American Tobacco company for at least one year, his family or any one else whom he may elect will receive an amount equal to the salary that the late employee received during the last year of his life from the company, provided, however, that the sum does not exceed $500. All employees of the company will come under this order, except those whose salaries exceed $50 a week. Those who will be benefited by the order include every kind of employee, the traveling salesman, of whom the company employs several thousand, stenographers, clerks, bookkeepers, office boys, mechanics, porters, truckmen, watchmen, and common laborers, as well as the skilled workmen of various classes.

This scheme has been under advisement by the directors of the company for several months. They were cognizant of the fact that a majority of their employees, as in other business houses, carried industrial insurance, the payment on which was somewhat of a drain on them. After due consideration the company devised this plan to relieve its employees from the expense of carrying any insurance whatever, but, of course, the company expects that those in its employ who are able to carry insurance additional to that carried for them by the company will do so. The company announces that none of its employees will be called upon to contribute, directly or indirectly, to the fund out of which the benefit will be paid. No documents will be drawn up and signed. All that the employee will have to do will be to give to the cashier of the branch or office at or from which he is employed, the name of the beneficiary to whom the bounty is to be paid on his death, and such bounty is not attachable nor will it be turned over to his heirs or assigns of the beneficiary. The insurance will be delivered only to such person as the deceased employee had designated by his own free will. It will be impossible for any one other than the person named by the employee to collect the money.

The plan will benefit 6,000 persons in Louisville, Ky., who are in the employ of the American Tobacco company.

It is understood that Judge Lorton of the United States circuit court will discharge the jury in a few days, and the probabilities are against any indictments being returned in connection with the investigation.

HOUSER PLANS RECEPTION FOR THE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE'S PLEASURE

Secretary Of State Plans Surprise For The Three Bold Demmies Who Seek Knowledge Of State Affairs.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., July 21.—Secretary of State Houser has planned a novel reception for the committee appointed by the recent democratic state convention in Milwaukee to investigate the financial administration of the state government as recorded in the records on file in the state department. When the committee appears to examine the books, the secretary of state, instead of handing them the books to examine as they see fit, will set a date for the beginning of the examination, the proceedings will be held in a formal and dignified manner in a public place large enough for as many citizens and newspaper men to come into and all sides of any line of inquiry will be presented, as before a court or committee of investigation. The committee is composed of J. A. Aylward of Madison, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, George W. Lewis of Madison, candidate for member of congress in the second district on the democratic ticket, and Col. George W. Bird, candidate for a federal appointment of state appointive judgeship in the event of a democratic victory. The committee of candidates will pick out only such part-facts as will suit them best as political campaign material and he is determined to prevent this if possible. "We court a full and thorough investigation," said Mr. Houser. "We will insist upon it being full, thorough and public, whether such is the plan of this committee or not. There will be no piecemeal investigation made; no running in to find out how much was spent for this or that, no fixing-up of a set of facts that may be ingeniously or half-truthfully twisted to make a political document for circulation in the aid of a committee of office-seekers. The investigation will be one of dignity. It will be somewhat formal. Notice of it will be given to the public so that whoever will may come and hear it. The committee may ask all and any questions desired, and the questions will be asked out loud and answered completely out loud. The newspapers, the representatives of all the people, will be made welcome so that they may adequately and accurately represent everything they wish with regard to what transpires in this investigation. Time is passing, however, and the committee should begin as soon as practicable."

AMERICANS FEAR PLOTS OF MEXICAN SOCIALISTS

Many Leave Country--Native Servants Are Members Of The Organization--Troops May Be Needed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New Orleans, July 21.—E. J. Mathes one of the party of fifty-two American men, women and children who left Mexico because of the anti-foreign threats, passed through New Orleans last night enroute to Cincinnati said, "One of the most alarming features of the situation is the fact the Mexican servants have joined in the anti-foreign movement and the wives of the foreigners are in mortal terror of their families being poisoned. The anti-foreign movement is strongest in northern and central Mexico where the natives have been wrought up to high pitch of excitement by the agitators and agents of the revolutionary socialists. The uprising is scheduled to occur in September and it will probably be necessary for the United States to throw an army across the border in order to protect the American citizens."

OLD WOMAN KILLS HERSELF BY DRIVING NAILS INTO BRAIN

Lives Sixty Hours With Two Nails Through Skull--Previous Attempt Unsuccessful.

Paragould, Ark., July 21.—Mrs. Alice Tompkins, seventy years old, committed suicide at her home near this city early Wednesday morning by driving nails into her brain. Mrs. Tompkins, who was deaf and partially blind, had attempted suicide once before by cutting her throat with a case knife when she was an inmate of an insane asylum. Since that time she was repeatedly declared that she would take her own life.

On Monday she was in a particularly desperate mood, and blood was seen in her hair. When her head was bathed the heads of two horse-shoe nails were seen. It was found that the nails had been driven into the skull and penetrated the brain. They were extracted by a physician and she died at three o'clock Wednesday morning, living sixty hours with the nails penetrating her brain. During much of the time she was on her feet running about her room.

The chief says: "A joke is a joke but none can be carried into a violation of the rules. BEGIN ON CAPITOL
WITHIN 3 WEEKSARCHITECTS TO START CON-STRUCTION OF STATE HOUSE.

DOUBLE THE PRESENT SPACE

Will Be Built on the Same General
Plan as the Old Building—One Wing at a Time.

Madison, July 21.—Work on the construction of Wisconsin's new capitol building will begin in about three weeks. Law F. Porter, secretary of the commission, yesterday afternoon
received a telegram from Post & Sons, the chosen architects of the commission, which said a representative of their firm would be in Madison Monday or Tuesday to confer with the commission on the matter of plans and construction. Arrangements will be made at once and the capitol will be built by contract.
Local concerns will be allowed to bid.
Covers Twice Present Space.

According to the program, the new capitol will cover twice the space of the present structure. It will be built on the same plan as the old capitol—cruciform in shape, diagonally in the park. The senate and assembly chambers will be much larger than the present ones. It will be approximately 450 feet between the north and the south entrance doors. The building will cover 80,000 square feet.

Build West Wing First.
The west wing will be constructed first. At present the commission has at its disposal $600,000 and it is estimated that according to the general plan this will be sufficient to finish this wing. It will not be settled until next week where the stone to construct the building will be quarried.
Many hope, however, that Wisconsin will be able to furnish material from which to construct the new state house. It is estimated that not more than one wing can be erected in two years.

Ten Years in Building.
It will take ten years to build the proposed capitol. The law passed at the regular session of the legislature was that the new building should occupy 6,000,000 square feet, and that the cost, outside of the dome, should not be over 40 cents a square foot.
This would place the cost of the capitol outside of the dome, at $2-400,000.

Dome for $1,500,000.
An imposing dome, to be built in proportion to the new building, but designed on the same general plan as the present dome, will cost $1,500,000.
This will place the total cost of the new capitol building at $4,000,000.
Much of the material in the present capitol building can be worked over and used in the new construction. The program, on which the plans for the new structure were designed, was drawn by Law F. Porter.
There were four other competitors to become architects. The new capitol provides many larger rooms and more of them.

Repair Old Capitol.
Repairs are now being made on the north wing of the capitol, and the supreme court room is being remodeled somewhat to give more room. The rooms on the third floor of the building had become so leaky that these repairs were necessary. The new capitol will have the same number of floors as the present structure.

Architect Is Well Known.
George B. Post & Sons of New York are the architects for the new building. Two sons are associated with Mr. Post, and it is thought that one of the sons will be sent here to supervise the matter. George Post was formerly president of the American Institute of Architecture and Architectural League. He was born in New York, and married Aline M.
Stone in 1863. He has designed many buildings in New York city.

the condition in which the place is makes it dangerous if gas should col-

FIVE DOLLARS FOR AMERICAN CITIZENNew Naturalization Law Is Explained
in Detail As to Its Requirements.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

In order to give the public a clear idea of the new naturalization law which was approved by congress June 29, the following statement is issued by a prominent attorney.

Contrary to reports circulated locally and which in part accounted for the extraordinary rush for full citizenship papers, the total fees under the new act will be $5, as follows: For filing declaration of intention, $1;
for filing petition for certificate of naturalization, $2; for entering final order, $2.

The new law becomes effective on Sept. 27, 1906. The important points of the law are set forth as follows:
Requirements as follows:

All declarations of intentions commonly known as "first papers" are effective under the new law as they were before its passage. Aliens upon entering are subjected to more rigid examination by the bureau of immigration. An alien, after entering, may now take out his first papers at any time after arrival. Such aliens must be 18 years of age. Second papers, or full papers of naturalization, can be secured only after five years' continuous residence in this country.
provided, however, that after taking out his first papers he must take out his second papers not less than two and not more than seven years, after the issuing of his first papers.

No alien shall be naturalized who can not speak the English language, except in two classes provided in the law—to-wit: Those who have already taken out their first papers under the old law, and those aliens who make homestead entries upon the public lands of the United States.

Having made his declarations of intentions and taken out his first papers,
in order to secure his full naturalization an alien must now at least ninety days before such certificate is granted him, make petition to the clerk of a proper court of record,
which clerk shall immediately post said notice in a public place. At the end of ninety days an alien may then appear before the court of record of the district in which he resides and be heard on his petition to become a full citizen. Under the new law the United States may contest at such hearing the right of an alien to secure such certificate. Witnesses may be called and heard. In every case two witnesses must appear with the alien and certify to his character and other necessary facts.

The lien may, if he so requests,
have his name changed by the court
at the time of securing his certificate of naturalization.

No certificate of naturalization shall be issued by any court within thirty days preceding the holding of any general election within its jurisdiction. This provision was evidently intended to prevent railroad aliens into citizenship, just prior to a general election. It raises an interesting question as to whether this result is accomplished. The provision does not prevent apparently the alien from filing his declaration of intentions immediately preceding or at any time
preceding the general election.

The only constitutional provision of the United States, concerning the right to vote is as follows:

"Electors in the state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislature."

The constitution of Wisconsin, in fixing the right to vote, contains the following provision:

"Every male person of the age of 21 years or upward who shall have resided in the state for one year next preceding any election, and in the election district where he offers to vote at such time as may be prescribed by the state legislature; not exceeding thirty days, shall be deemed a qualified elector at such election."

The statutes of the state provide that he need reside within the election district not less than ten days. These are all the legal provisions touching on the right of an alien to vote.

It would seem clear, therefore,
that despite the provision concerning the issuance of certificates of naturalization before general elections that the right of an alien to vote isn't affected by the new law, but continues the same as heretofore, the only requisite being residence within the state one year, his declaration of intention, and residence within the election district ten days.

Full copies of the law as amended may be secured from the clerk of the United States senate, Washington,
D. C.

Can we longer afford to overlook the fact that we can secure the very best of dental service at about half the rates we have been paying? Dr. Richards of Janesville, the independent dentist, says he would be delighted to have his work (put out at a modest price) compared with work done by others at possibly double his prices. He affirms that the comparison will establish the fact that:

His work is good in every respect. His work is lasting. His work is done thoroughly. His work is substantial and, in fact, not excelled by that of any other local dentist.

In addition to the reasonableness of his prices he gives close attention to painless work. Now see what you get by having him do your dental work.

Toten Talk

County Clerk Howard Lee gently turned the drift of conversation to the Scriptures this morning in order that he might propound a question about the gentleman who ate grass like an ox, a query which he was quite sure that no one but himself could answer. His intimacy with biblical lore and the prestige resulting therefrom had scarcely been established when George Sale asked Mr. Lee or anyone else present to say whether or not two identical chapters might be found in two separate books of the good volume, and if so, where nobody committed himself, though the expressions on several faces plainly indicated that the owners thereof regarded Mr. Sale's proposition as absurd. The volume that is kept in the circuit court chambers was secured and quickly turning to Chap. XIX of the second book of Kings and Chap. XXXVII of the book of Isaiah he bade the doubters read them aloud simultaneously. With one or two minor differences the two chapters were found to be alike. The convention then adjourned to Clerk of Court Ward Stevens' office to try him out on the proposition. Mr. Stevens led his questioners on by his mischievous attitude to a point where they were ready to convict him of ignorance on this momentous subject and then suddenly answered the question in detail. "Huh, you think I don't know anything," was his rejoinder.

teary cabbies sit on their petition for patronage. Janesville, then appears to be a thriving city of many thousands.

The different trains come in on three tracks and only destination signs, two patrolmen and many trainmen prevent continual confusion. This is probably one of the smallest places where so many prearrangements must be taken in order that the traveling public will not experience an undue amount of trouble.

An explanation of the trains is of interest. The first to arrive is at 10:15. One from Milwaukee, bound for Mineral Point, comes in from the north on the third track and another from Davis Junction comes in from the opposite direction on the first track. The latter is followed five minutes later by one from Mineral Point. At ten thirty two more arrive. From the north the Portage, Madison, Stoughton and Edgerton train comes in on the second track and from the south the Chicago train arrives on the first. Two of these trains—the Davis Junction and Mineral Point—are broken up here. The Chicago train continues to Portage. Passengers for Milwaukee take this train and make connections at Milton Junction. The Portage train continues to Chicago and the Milwaukee train to Mineral Point. From the two trains that complete their runs here another train is made up and this goes to Davis Junction at 11:20.

A Pretty Hand.
The pretty hand has a charm that is second to the charm of a pretty face. The pretty hand should have character. It should be graceful and expressive, significant of something besides prettiness. It should be firm and it may be brown or white, but never red or mottled. It may be dimpled, but it should not be pudgy and softly fat like a cushion. A hand of this sort suggests flabbiness of nature, undeveloped and helplessness.

SACRIFICE LIVES ON ANARCHY'S PYRE

RUSSIAN TOWN IS WIPED OUT BY REVOLUTIONISTS.

MANY SUSPECTS LYNCHED

Several Men Thought to Have Applied Torch Are Summarily Hanged—Hundreds Meet Death in the Burning Ruins.

Samara, Russia, July 21.—The latest news from Syzran is that the city is a heap of ruins. Hundreds of persons lost their lives in the flames. Several men suspected of incendiarism were lynched. Food for the starving inhabitants of Syzran is being sent from here and from Saratov. No doubt is entertained that the burning of Syzran was a revolutionary demonstration. The government buildings and treasury were destroyed. Many panic-stricken inhabitants sought refuge in the surrounding fields and forests.

Syzran was an important commercial and industrial town 70 miles south of Simbirsk, on the Syzran river, near its confluence with the Volga. By the census of 1897 it had a population of over 32,000.

Shoot Hundreds of Peasants. St. Petersburg, July 21.—Many hundreds of peasants have been killed and wounded since Sunday near the city of Voronezh. Dispatches received Friday tell gruesome stories of wanton butchery by troops at the instigation of the rich landowners.

The slaughter continued until the peasants were reinforced and by force of numbers threatened to overwhelm the soldiers. Then the troops were forced to retreat.

Urgent dispatches for more troops were sent to the military authorities by the commander of the vanquished detachment. As a result the government hurried to the scene heavy bodies of artillery. The gunners are under orders to disperse all mobs with solid cannon shot if it is deemed necessary.

Thousands May Be Shot Down. What may follow when the cannon are unlimbered is conjectural. If the peasants mass before the big guns as they did before the rifles of the infantry they may be mown down by thousands. From Voronezh trouble is spreading over all the central provinces and the government considers it necessary to give an object lesson in the hotbed of revolt; hence the use of artillery.

The bloodshed around Voronezh began in consequence of the government brutally suppressing a strike of hired laborers. Enormous masses of the peasants then congregated and marched in a great column several miles in length to sack all estates in the neighborhood.

Sack and Burn Fifteen Estates. Troops arrived and tried to displace the mob with volleys of musketry. Hundreds of peasants were killed and wounded, but the peasants stubbornly refused to retreat. The approach of masses of peasants by other roads made the position of the troops untenable and they retreated, leaving the estates defenseless.

Already 15 estates near Voronezh have been sacked and burned by the peasants and the war continues. The railway stations are packed with fugitives and the landlords and their families are camping by the roadsides. One large landed proprietor named Dobrousky and his family wandered for days across fields before they reached Voronezh.

Forbidden Doctors to Experiment. Vienna, July 21.—The minister of the interior has issued an order absolutely forbidding physicians in government hospitals to experiment on patients unless the method they intend to use is generally approved.

Ask Receiver for Zinc Company. New York, July 21.—A petition in bankruptcy was filed Friday against the Montana Zinc company. It was alleged that the company is insolvent and admitted in writing its inability to pay its debts.

BANKER TAKEN TO PRISON

Supreme Court of Minnesota Confirms Action of Lower Court in Refusing New Trial. Le Sueur, Minn., July 21.—Sheriff John H. Truxler, of this county, arrested Livingston Quackenbush, the former banker here, Friday, and took him to Stillwater, where he is to serve a four year term for fraudulent banking.

His establishment, the Le Sueur county bank, failed in March, 1904, for over $100,000 with assets not to exceed 16 cents on the dollar.

Quackenbush was twice tried for the offense, being acquitted on a technicality the first time, but was convicted last September and sentenced to four years in the state penitentiary. He appealed to the supreme court from an order refusing a new trial and the supreme court sustained the order.

Gotch Wins Wrestling Bout. New Orleans, July 21.—Frank Gotch, claimant of the American catch-as-catch-can wrestling championship, Friday defeated Charles Olson, known as the southern champion, in a flinty bout.

Costly Fire in Japan. London, July 21.—A dispatch from Tokyo to the Daily Telegraph states that fire at Yokohama July 20 destroyed 1,000 Japanese houses.

PROVISIONS OF BEIT'S WILL

South African Financier Left Millions to Develop Communication on the Dark Continent.

London, July 21.—Owing to premature statements regarding the will of the late Alfred Beit, the South African financier, the executors of Mr. Beit's estate Friday evening gave out the exact terms of the public bequest, without, however, disclosing the amount of the fortune left, which it is believed, it will take a considerable time to estimate, owing to the fluctuation in the price of shares owned by Mr. Beit.

The sum enumerated make the vast total of $9,675,000, not including the value of the estate bequeathed to his native city of Hamburg, or the art treasures bestowed on the National gallery and the museums of Berlin and Hamburg. It is, however, believed that the aggregate will be not far short of $12,500,000.

The most notable provision of the will is that in which a body of trustees get control of $6,000,000 to be used in the development and construction by means of railway telegraphs and wireless telegraphy and telephones in Rhodesia and upon the Cape to Cairo railway, which, with other bequests for South Africa, demonstrate that Mr. Beit's interest in the welfare of the country in which his fortune was made was equal to that of his old associate, Cecil Rhodes.

PLANS TO ARREST OIL KING

Ohio Sheriff or Deputy Will Meet John D. Rockefeller on His Arrival in New York.

Findlay, O., July 21.—Sheriff Groves, who has in his possession a warrant for the arrest of John D. Rockefeller, based on the criminal information recently filed in the probate court here by County Prosecutor David, charging Mr. Rockefeller, as the alleged head of the Standard Oil company, with violation of the Valentine anti-trust law, says either he or one of his deputies will attempt to serve the warrant upon the landing of Mr. Rockefeller in New York.

It is stated further that if the papers are served Gov. Harris will at once be asked to make requisition on Gov. Higgins of New York, for extradition papers.

The claim is set up, however, that as the information and warrant only charge a misdemeanor no requisition under the law can be issued.

Paris, July 21.—John D. Rockefeller sailed for New York Friday evening on the Hamburg-American line steamer Amerika. Mr. Rockefeller declined to discuss the announcements of legal proceedings against him which are awaiting his arrival in the United States.

ABERDEEN HAS A BAD FIRE

Spark from Drunken Man's Pipe Ignites Heavy Loss on City in South Dakota.

Aberdeen, S. D., July 21.—Fire that broke out at nine o'clock Friday night in a vacant barn destroyed a quarter of a block between First and Second streets, south of Second avenue west. The loss is estimated at $40,000.

The buildings destroyed were the machinery warehouse of E. F. Coleman & Co., plant of the Aberdeen Machine company, the Copeland & Miller properties, Becker House and the residence of E. O. Mead.

The heaviest loss is E. F. Coleman & Co., whose loss is estimated at a little over $10,000.

The fire is thought to have caught fire from a drunken man's pipe.

SHAW'S IDEAL MAN.

Why British Playwright Prefers Doll-face, Why Person to a Sandwich.

George Bernard Shaw, the English playwright and critic, has recently been giving his ideal of a perfect man, and, as one might expect, it is quite different from other people's and very far removed from that of Eugene Sandow, says a London cable dispatch to the Chicago Inter Ocean.

"I have a great respect for Herr Sandow," Mr. Shaw said at a meeting of vegetarians, "but whenever I go to hear him lecture he is always saying, 'Why don't you get to be like me?'"

And I look at him, and I see a magnificent man, so muscular that he can hardly walk. Well, I want to walk. And perhaps he points out another and says, 'You're a wretched, effeminate creature. Look at this splendid fellow here, and then he hits him a blow in the stomach and the man apparently does not mind. But,' Mr. Shaw went on with great earnestness, 'I don't want people to hit me in the stomach. You will see this man with a board on his chest containing, say, twenty people, three elephants, a grand piano, a sofa and things of that kind. Undoubtedly that is a very remarkable thing, but I don't want to do things like that.'

"The object of my life, instead of accumulating these things on me, is to keep them off me. Here is Herr Sandow going through life feeling how many of these heavy things he can pile on top of himself, so I go through life feeling how many I can get rid of. As a matter of fact, I object to carrying a brown paper parcel. I contend that the highly developed man does object to brown paper parcels. I resent all these attempts to make me a muscular person. I want to be a delicate person. One of Mr. Wells' Martians, for whom everything physically energetic is done by machinery—that is the sort of person I want to be."

"Daniel, we read, was favored by God because he gave up meat. After some time he became handsome. That struck me very much indeed. Indeed, I am not sure that it did not persuade me to adopt a vegetarian diet. But unfortunately the Scriptures have fallen into disrepute, and if you mention Daniel nowadays people don't know whom you are talking about. I, as a literary person, am saturated with the Bible. My style is very largely formed on the Bible, but I find that if I quote it nobody understands. I believe it is one of the rules that a censor in this country (England) shall not allow long passages from the Bible to be spoken on the stage. But in my plays I take whole chapters, word for word, and the modern censor, never having read the Bible, doesn't know it."

REVIVAL VERSUS RAGTIME.

One Effect of the Torrey-Alexander Campaign in Philadelphia.

"If the Torrey-Alexander revival has accomplished nothing else in Philadelphia it has made one old man happy," recently declared William Jacoby, associated with Dr. Torrey in the Moody church, Chicago, says the Chicago Eagle. "This old man," he continued, "was riding down to Broad and Wharton streets on a Fifteenth street car. He did not know me, but smiled kindly as he proffered me a bag containing gum drops. I took one, and he asked me if I would like to go to hear Dr. Torrey preach and Mr. Alexander sing. When I replied that I was going there myself he became confidential. 'My home's worth living in now,' he said. 'Every one right with God?' I interposed.

"Yes, we always have been church members," he replied, but since Mr. Alexander came the girls have quit playing ragtime music on the piano. You see, for years past the old hymns and sweet melodies that their mother and I love got old-fashioned to them. When the revival began, both my girls joined the Alexander choir, and now we have the 'Glory Song' and other hymns instead of 'There'll Be a Hot Time' and other such stuff. Mother and I had quit trying to slug with our girls, but now they insist that we join in the choruses."

THE QUEST OF THE GOLDEN GOOSE

In hunting for a business or occupation most people are really hunting for a goose that will lay golden eggs.

The commonest aspiration is to so construct and devise a business enterprise that it becomes almost automatic—so that when the play-fever touches the blood one may "let go," sit at one side, and watch for the daily golden egg with a certainty of its appearance.

Every business man has, in his store or enterprise or venture, a possible golden goose—a present golden gosling. It rests with himself alone whether he will raise the bird or not—whether it will arrive at golden-goosehood or perish from neglect or ignorance.

These birds require much attention, much care—and they must be fed, if you would have them grow to goosehood; and their natural diet is—advertising!

No golden goose was ever raised to a "working age" if the food was stinted, or denied, or adulterated or substituted.

The merchant who "knows things" is satisfied to invest silver in food for the gosling—because, after many days, the silver will return in golden eggs.

Such investment may require a little faith—but more common sense.

Is your business enterprise progressing toward Golden Goosehood?
